

Education Matters in Construction

BRE Innovation Park, Watford
26th May 2016: 8.30am to 1.00pm*

You will hear from industry and education leaders

- ✓ why education is critical
- ✓ what are the latest schemes
- ✓ how to benefit from generous government funding

Key Speakers including:

- Dr Peter Bonfield, Chief Executive, BRE
- Steve Radley, Director CITB
- Tony Ellender, Head of Talent, Balfour Beatty
- Stephen Fox, HE Director, UCSA

**Lunch and optional tour of BRE's Innovation Park after the main event*

Book Now on www.bre.co.uk/educationmatters

Closing the Construction Skills Gap

“With growth returning across the country and over 230,000 jobs expected to be created over the next five years, demand for construction workers is high and skills shortages are emerging.

It’s never been more important to attract, train and retain the next generation of workers.”

CITB website

“... without a ready supply of management recruits coming through the trades, future growth in housing output could be more constrained.”

“Training will play a key role, either in topping up existing skills or by developing new entrants...”

‘People & Money, fundamental to unlocking the housing crisis’ by Mark Farmer & Simon Rawlinson, Arcadis

Find out how at this conference Education Matters in Construction

BRE Innovation Park, Watford
26th May 2016: 8.30am to 1.00pm

Book Now on www.bre.co.uk/educationmatters

For more information on the event contact:

Adrian Dixon ☎ 07711 718532 ✉ a.dixon@panel2panel.co.uk

OAKLANDS COLLEGE

